SOUTH OF MUKDEN.

Everything Indicates That Both Armies Are Ready For a Resumption of Hostilities.

THE JAPS LARGELY REINFORCED.

Second Battle on the Shakhe River Will Prove Bigger and More Serious Than the First.

On Night of October 30 Japanese Attacked the Russian Entrenchments East of Sinchinpu, But Were Repulsed.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 1.—Everything indicates that both the Japanese and Russian armies south of Mukden are ready for a resumption of hostilities, if indeed fighting has not already begun. Gen. Kuropatkin reports that the Japanese have received reinforcements from the south and Feng Wang Cheng. Their concentration seems to have been accomplished and they are ready to resume the offensive both east and west of the railroad. There is no official estimate of the strength of the Japanese reinforcements, but correspondents place it at from 40,000 to 60,000. It is believed that the Japanese force has been very largely augmented both from Port Arthur, where an engineering siege has been begun, and Japan, from whence it is said every available is drafted.

It seems to be assured that the Japanese will be able to meet Gen. Kuropatkin on almost if not quite an equal numerical footing. The mere fact that they are again threatening a double flanking movement indicates Field Marshal Oyama's confidence in the efficiency of the force at his disposal. It is believed here that the second battle on the Shakhe river will prove to be as much bigger and more serious than the first, as the first was more serious than the battle of Liao Yang. Gen. Kuropatkin is confronted by an exceedingly difficult problem. He is pitted against a Japanese force stronger even despite its recent losses than that first opposing his south advance. If Kuropatkin now succeeds in checking or even breaking the Japanese formation it will open large possibilities for the brief remainder of the present year's campaign. On the other hand, a Russian reverse would render the position exceedingly critical.

Dispatches indicate the resumption of fighting on both extremities of the Russian front. The night of October 30 the Japanese attacked the Russian entrenchments east of Sinchinpu, but were repulsed though the bombardment continued throughout the night. A Japanese advance has also begun against the Russian positions at Tunggan, a mile and a half north of Bentsiaputze, where they encountered a heavy Russian fire. Thus it appears that the Japanese are becoming aggressive along the whole front, from Bentsiaputze on the extreme east to Sinchinpu, which is west of the Shakhe river, where that stream bends south after crossing the railroad. This probably constitutes the extreme Russian west, making the battle front about the same as when Gen. Kuropatkin began his southern movement.

ARBITRATION TREATY.

France and the United States Will Begin Negotiations After Election.

Washington, Nov. 1.—France and the United States expect to begin the negotiation of an arbitration at Washington soon after the presidential elections. The treaty will be known as the Hay-Jusserand arbitration treaty, and according to the present program will follow closely the lines of the British-French arbitration treaty. Some time ago the French government through its ambassador at Washington informed Secretary Hay that France was ready and willing to conclude such a convention whenever it was the pleasure of the United States.

OFF FOR THE PHILIPPINES.

The 21st Infantry Will Probably Sail in About Two Weeks.

Minneapolis, Nov. 1.—The 21st infantry marched out of Fort Snelling Monday afternoon to the tune of "The Girl I Left Behind Me" and started on their journey to the Philippines. Other companies from Fort Keogh, Mont., and Fort Lincoln, N. D., will arrive in San Francisco about the same time as the Fort Snelling companies, which probably will be Friday or Saturday. Two weeks later the regiments sail for the Philippines.

St. Louis, Nov. 1.—The appointment of Chevalier Vittorio Zeggio as commissioner general of Italy to the Lewis and Clark exposition at Portland, Ore., was announced Monday.

THE EMPEROR'S GIFT.

Bronze Statue of Frederick the Great Placed on Pedestal.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Emperor William's gift to the American people, the bronze statue of Frederick the Great, was placed on its pedestal on the esplanade of the army war college at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. The members of the German embassy staff were present and were given a private view of the statue. As soon as it was put in place the statue was veiled until the ceremonies on November 19, when it will be unveiled by the German ambassador, the Baroness Speck Sternburg, and will be formally presented by the German ambassador. Many German societies in various parts of the country will send delegates to represent them.

NETHERLANDS MINISTER.

He Called on Secretary Hay to Say Farewell.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Jonkheer R. De Marees Van Swinderen, minister from The Netherlands, called on Secretary Hay Monday to say farewell, as he is leaving Washington Tuesday for Holland to arrange his private affairs there before returning to his post here to be married to Miss Glover.

The minister assured Secretary Hay that in his judgment the Dutch government will be very glad to have accepted by the powers the secretary's suggestion that the second peace conference be held at The Hague and he was sure that every courtesy and opportunity would be extended to make the meeting a success.

Grand Duchess Cecilia.

She is to wed the crown prince of Germany this winter, and is a general favorite with the German people.

ARCHBISHOP ELDER DEAD.

The Last Words Uttered By the Venerable Prelate Was a Prayer.

Cincinnati, Nov. 1.—William Henry Elder, the senior archbishop of the Catholic church in America, is dead. The great prelate of the Cincinnati diocese, after three days' struggle with death, has given up the hopeless fight. The venerable churchman breathed his last at 11:53 o'clock Monday night.

Shortly afterward the chimes in the cathedral carried the sad news to the thousands that have prayed that the archbishop's life might be spared.

The last words uttered by the eminent churchman was a prayer, which he repeated in tones almost inaudible to the little group kneeling at the bedside.

A SUCCESSFUL TRIP

Knabenshue Made a Second Trial of the Airship California Arrow at St. Louis.

CIRCLED IN EVERY DIRECTION.

After Making Heading Against Moderate Wind He Landed at the Place From Which He Started.

The Daring Aeronaut Remained in the Air 2,000 Feet Above the Earth For 26 Minutes—The Machine Is Dirigible.

St. Louis, Nov. 1.—After circling in every direction at a height of 2,000 feet above the cascades, in sight of thousands of cheering, enthusiastic spectators on the World's fair grounds, Roy Knabenshue, of Toledo, O., in command of the Baldwin airship, Monday returned to the place from which he had started over the same course that he had come, covering the three miles and a half of the round trip under his own power and demonstrating the claims of the inventor, Capt. Thos. S. Baldwin, of San Francisco, that the "California Arrow" is not only dirigible, but that it can make headway against a moderate breeze.

Knabenshue started from the aeronautic concourse at 3:37 p. m. and returned after his remarkable flight at 4:05 p. m. On the return trip the airship sailed slowly over the exact spot from which it had risen, 26 minutes previously, and glided about 100 feet further west where it settled gracefully to the ground.

The descent of the Arrow was the signal for a demonstration the equal of which has not been seen since the wheels of the World's fair started last April in response to the pressure on a key by President Roosevelt. Dozens of eager hands were upstretched to grasp the frame of the airship and the flying machine, with its daring navigator, were carried around the concourse upon the shoulders of shouting men.

Hats were thrown in the air and when Knabenshue called for three cheers for his home town, they were given with a will and another round followed for Knabenshue and Baldwin.

At the start the Arrow rose slowly and easily, its prow directed toward the west. When at a height of about 25 feet Knabenshue turned the rudder and the aerial craft, answering to its helm, pointed south and continued its flight without interruption.

Knabenshue at that time was not high enough to clear the aeronautic fence and as he rapidly approached it, the crowd held its breath, fearing that the craft would be dashed against the barricade and the aeronaut badly injured, or perhaps killed.

The young man who clung to the frail support that affords the navigator of the California Arrow a precarious foothold, did not share the anxiety of the spectators. Waving his cap to assure those who were following his every move, Knabenshue moved toward the rear of the airship. The Arrow pointed its prow upward and answering the pull of the propeller, soared lightly above the fence and rapidly gained an altitude of about 1,000 feet.

After proceeding about half to three-quarters of a mile westward, Knabenshue turned the airship about and again passed over the concourse, at the same time increasing altitude until he was about 2,000 feet above the earth.

Sailing first to the northeast and then to the southeast, occasionally making complete turns, Knabenshue continued in a generally easterly direction until over the cascades, the center of the World's fair grounds, and about a mile and a half in a direct line from the point of starting.

At about that time the barely perceptible breeze that had been blowing from the northwest increased to about eight miles an hour and veered to the north.

In order to return to the starting point it was necessary for Knabenshue to breast this breeze. It could be seen that his first effort to turn the airship from a course before the wind was unsuccessful and fears were expressed that Knabenshue could not complete the demonstration by returning to the concourse.

He attempted several times to turn to the left and then suddenly swung the rudder sharply in the other direction and the Arrow came into the wind, staggered a moment, and then, gaining power, came on toward the concourse at a speed that caused the spectators to cheer and toss their hats into the air. The demonstration was observed by Knabenshue who leaned far out and waved an empty ballast bag.

We'd like to go fishing just once when only the little fish got away.

HORRIFYING SPECTACLE.

A Newport Boy, Incased in a Blazing Barrel, Frightfully Burned.

Newport, Ky., Nov. 1.—Residents of Newport were witnesses of a most horrifying spectacle Monday night, when Henry Harker, a 12-year-old boy, encased in a blazing barrel, crazed with pain, eluded pursuers who were endeavoring to assist him, and ran for half a block before he was stopped and the barrel torn from around him. The boy was probably fatally burned.

A number of boys had a Hallowe'en bonfire, and the barrel, with only one end knocked out, was on the top of the burning pile. It toppled and fell, covering the Harker boy, who was so frightened that he started to run before his playmates could help him. His skin was burned to a crisp from head to foot, and his condition is considered exceedingly critical.

BIG DAMAGES ASKED.

A Newport Woman Sues a Cincinnati Firm For $20,000.

Newport, Ky., Nov. 1.—Florence Moore, of this city, Monday, through Attorneys Platt & Benton, filed a suit in the federal court against the Guenther Bros. Co., of Cincinnati, for $20,000 damages. On August 28, while the plaintiff was driving along Alexandria pike, Campbell county, Kentucky, the vehicle in which she was riding was run into by an automobile belonging to and occupied by the defendants. By reason of the accident, the plaintiff claims, her buggy was wrecked, that she sustained serious bodily injuries and that she has since suffered acute hysteria, owing to the fact that she was soon to become a mother.

FELL FORTY FEET.

How the Boy Escaped Death Is a Miracle.

Covington, Ky., Nov. 1.—How Orville Lunsford, aged 11 years, escaped being killed Monday is a miracle. He was riding the bumpers on a cut of C. & O. cars across the C. & O. bridge at Fifth street, when the cars came to a sudden stop, the jolt knocking him from his position. He fell through the trestle work to the ground, a distance of about 40 feet, alighting on his face. He was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to the St. Elizabeth's hospital. The extent of his injuries will have to be awaited. Lunsford lives at 13 Park place.

A Juvenile Prison.

Covington, Ky., Nov. 1.—Covington may have a place of detention, in connection with the city jail. President F. P. Wolcott, of the Associated Charities, sent a communication to the city council Monday night asking, on behalf of his association and the Humane society, that the city provide a place for the detention of young boys and white women.

THE LIGHTWEIGHTS

Britt Lost the Championship of the World in His Fight With Gans.

FOULED HIM IN FIFTH ROUND.

Had Sent His Opponent to His Knees, Then Losing His Head Gave Him a Punch.

It Looked From the Start That Britt Would Win, He Actually Outboxed Gans and Landing Blow After Blow.

San Francisco, Nov. 1.—Jimmy Britt, of California, lost the lightweight championship of the world Monday night when he fouled Joe Gans. He had sent Gans to his knees in the fifth round and then losing his head gave him a vicious punch and Referee Graney promptly awarded the decision to Gans on a foul. The same thing had happened in the fourth round. Gans had dropped to his knees to escape a blow that did not land. Britt struck at him but Graney very promptly recognized the foul fighting. It looked almost from the start as if it were Britt's fight. He actually outboxed Gans and landed blow after blow. In the fourth round it was apparent that Gans was scared and baring a foul the fight was Britt's to a certainty.

While no excuse can be made for Britt losing his head, it certainly seemed that Gans invited a foul. The decision was a great shock to the biggest crowd that ever filled the pavilion, but fair-minded men agreed that Graney's judgment was just. Britt showed marvelous strength and quickness. He went at Gans like a bull-terrier, landing body blows alternating with swings on the jaw. During the first three rounds Gans appeared cool and confident and fairly strong. He appeared to be feeling Britt out, but at the end of the third and the beginning of the fourth when Britt commenced to fight more viciously Gans weakened perceptibly. He landed a few times on Britt, but the little white boy paid no attention to the colored man's light taps and every time he was hit bore in more viciously than ever. There is no doubt in the minds of the majority of those present that in another contest at the same weights Britt would defeat Gans easily.

The fight demonstrated that Britt is a wonder in his class. He is a clever boxer, quick as a cat and a hard hitter. With the addition of having a bull dog grit that makes him fight all the harder when he is being punished. Gans and his followers were highly delighted at the decision and had no complaint coming.

After the fight, when Britt had recovered his temper, he apologized to Graney and said: "What could I do when a man fell every time when it was unnecessary? I am sorry I hit him while on his knees but I could not help it." The fifth round lasted but 35 seconds when the foul was declared.

EVENING BULLETIN

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.

ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1904

Weather Forecast
Fair to-night and Wednesday.

The Ledger says "news from up in the incut timber is most encouraging." We knew the jig was up the instant Billy Schooler was billed for speeches in Bath and Rowan in the interest of Judge Bennett.

At a meeting of Republicans held at Covington Saturday, a set of resolutions strongly condemning Chairman B. P. Ernst and the political methods of himself and his machine, were adopted. There was a large attendance of Republicans who place principle above party, and who say they will not submit to the dictation of a boss.

The Ninth district has always been contested vigorously on both sides and this year is no exception. Congressman Kehoe is seeking a re-election and all reports except those emanating from the "timber" districts—Billy Schooler's bailiwick—indicate a big victory for Mason's candidate. Mr. Kehoe has secured a strong hold upon the soldier vote of the district by reason of his faithful work in their behalf, and when the returns are in November 8th, Jim will indeed know that he has "been to the races."

ROCKEFELLER is out of politics, but into religion up to his neck. So is Morgan and all the rest of the multi-millionaires. The roar of the angry masses has at last reached the ears of the plutocrats. While secretly contributing money to re-elect Roosevelt that their hold on the throats of the people may not be loosened they are publicly declaring themselves "out of politics." A day of settlement is coming for these conspirators. They know it and they are trying to avoid the consequences of years of pillage and oppression.

BRYAN THE REAL LEADER.

No man since Henry Clay fascinated the country with his oratory and charmed them with his personality has approached William Jennings Bryan in the affections of the masses of the people. After all he is the real leader. Thousands hang upon his words. Wherever he goes he is the idol of those who love a clean, strong man, with the courage of a lion and the ability to justify his claims to leadership. His manliness, his fairness, his equable temper, his clear mind and inspired tongue appeals to them. His influence to-day is greater than it has ever been.

It must be gratifying to him as it is to his free silver followers to find those who knifed him in 1896 and 1900 leaning upon his broad shoulders to-day. It shows the character of the man in the resolute nature, the forgiving heart that puts party above personal revenge. He does not lack the spirit to fight back. A braver character never arose in American public life. But his party needs him. And he has answered that call for help with all the energy of his indomitable will. He has put private griefs aside and has enlisted in a war that means whatever fortune may attend it the unification of a party he loves.

All honor to Mr. Bryan. He has shamed his detractors. He has proved his right to the title of the great Commoner. Whatever his future may be he stands to-day the most attractive, persuasive and dominant figure in national affairs.

BENNETT HAS NO CHANCE.

Those Who Vote For Him Vote Against Their Own and the District's Best Interests.

Greenup Democrat: "It is not our intention in this brief sketch to deal with the various virtues and accomplishments of Mr. Kehoe, the candidate of the people of the Ninth district for Congress.

"Nominated first four years ago against Samuel J. Pugh, a ter a hard fight he was elected by a small majority. From his first day in Congress he made himself known and appreciated. His good work in the interest of his entire constituency during his first term so endeared him to the people of the district that upon his second race two years ago he was almost unanimously re-elected, defeating his Republican opponent by over 2,200 votes.

"Being again the choice of his party for renomination, he is before the people of the district for the third time, and he comes stronger recommended than in either of his previous races.

His brilliant and successful efforts in behalf of his home district and the old soldiers in particular have endeared him to all, and his election is assured by a magnificent majority.

"While Mr. Kehoe's Republican opponent Judge J. B. Bennett is a citizen of our home county of Greenup, and while it is far from us or any of his neighbors and fellow citizens to say anything to detract from his ability or standing as a citizen, it is violating no confidence nor saying anything untrueful to state that he has absolutely no chance of election, and those who vote for him vote against their own and the district's best interests.

"Mr. Kehoe is just at the stage when he can be of more value to the district and the citizens than ever before.

"Let Greenup County have a share in the triumphant re-election of James N. Kehoe, statesman, citizen and friend of all the people."

The Democrats will close the campaign next Wednesday in Greenup County with an all-day rally at the court house. The speakers for the occasion will be Hon. J. N. Kehoe, Hon. C. L. Williams, candidate for Elector, and Mr. W. T. Cole, the only Democratic lawyer in the town.

The venerable Mr. B. D. Owens is quite sick at his home in the county.

Don't Neglect Yourself.

1465 Second Street, Louisville, Ky., April 14, 1903.

I have been weak and sickly for the past four years, caused by irregularity and carelessness regarding the laws of health, but about five months ago my condition became very serious. I had severe backache and suffered a constant dull pain in my head. I spent weary, painful days, and miserable, restless nights. The doctor told me that I must have patience. His medicine did not, however, give me even temporary relief and as I had been told of the curative qualities of Wine of Cardui I decided to try it. I found that it relieved me of pain. As my general health improved my other troubles were gradually diminished and after five weeks' use of the Wine of Cardui I was once more a well and happy woman.

WINE OF CARDUI

Wine of Cardui regulates the menstrual flow, banishes headaches, backaches and bearing-down pains. Severe headaches, bearing-down pains, indigestion, loss of appetite and nervousness are symptoms of female weakness and should be given prompt attention. If you are troubled with menstrual irregularities do not let them run on. They will certainly grow into dangerous and chronic troubles. Get a bottle of Wine of Cardui and begin treatment at once.

All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

An opportunity will be given every grower to become a member of and secure stock in the company. Other counties are pushing to the front nobly. Don't allow Mason County to lag behind in this great movement to secure living prices for your tobacco.

President Hawkins says the capitalists who were to finance the scheme demand that a showing be made by November 5. He intimates that so far the movement has not met with the success desired, and that he is almost ready to give up the fight to unite the farmers against the trust unless more interest is shown. We give space with pleasure to his card which follows:

The death knell of the Butley Tobacco Growers' Company is ringing. Our capitalists demand a showing by the 5th of November. I with my associates have fought a good and untiring fight. We begged and we entreated the growers to avail themselves of the opportunity to get better prices; we have told you what it takes to succeed.

We have been shunned like we were lepers. We advertised for speakings and were met by small audiences; still we labored. Many were kind and lent us a helping hand, but the army of tobacco growers have decided they will tamely submit. The trust agents know we have not got enough and have changed their song. Fifty million pounds more raised this year than last, and we have enough to do us a year. They will let you down easy to about 7 cents, and I am one will not be sorry.

I have one more appointment to speak to fill and this is my last, and am sorry to fill that appointment, for you have deemed our movement a failure. You can sign the contract now or not, as you please. It may be true, but it must be quick. I will never again ask any man to sign it, and with my fellow-workers have the satisfaction of knowing we all fall together.

A round-up of the signed contracts will be had November 5, and if not enough are signed we will publish to the world, "The fire is out."

It is claimed that the Republicans have padded registration lists at Lexington and an examination of the books is to be held this week. Deputy Sheriffs have served notice on 200 persons registered as Republicans, asking them to appear before Judge Parker and show cause why their names should not be stricken from the records.

We are indebted to our active and alert Congressman, J. N. Kehoe, for the advance sheets of Mr. Avon Burke's admirable survey of "Soils" in this section. He has studied the geology of this region very carefully, and in his summary of the practical conditions gives some excellent advice. He suggests for example that the slopes of certain formations which have been denuded by perpetual cropping and frequent washing be reserved exclusively for pasturage and timber growth.

WOODSON'S PREDICTION.

Speaking For the National Committee He Says the Overwhelming Election of Judge Parker is Assured.

Urey Woodson, Secretary of the Democratic National Committee, predicts the overwhelming election of Judge Parker to the Presidency. He says all the doubtful States will be Democratic, and that some called Republican will be and are doubtful. Mr. Woodson says:

"I have every confidence that Judge Parker will be elected. I am ready to announce from observation and what we have received that Parker is elected.

"The doubtful States, so-called, will be in the Democratic column and many of the States called purely Republican are now in the doubtful column.

"We will carry New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Indiana, Maryland, West Virginia, Idaho, Colorado, Utah and Nevada. In other words, all the doubtful States are for us and for Parker's election.

"Illinois is doubtful. Ohio is even doubtful. The big men who controlled that State are now dead. The Republicans assume they are going to win there, but we hear they might lose. Even California sends good reports to us and we are hopeful of carrying that State.

"Maryland is certainly as democratic as Kentucky, West Virginia is as sure as Maryland."

The usual Halloween pranks were played by the young folks throughout the city and suburbs last night, but beyond the removal of a few gates and the displacement of some signs and other articles no serious damage was done. Up in the Sixth ward a few mischievous girls were masquerading in male attire and a couple of boys had their faces blacked and wore feminine outfits. A Fifth ward citizen is said to have taken a shot at a crowd, but he evidently fired to frighten the youngsters, as no one was hurt.
